Emma's Bubble Trust

Thank you for deciding to support Emma's Bubble Trust. Your efforts are greatly appreciated and we hope you have enjoyable time raising money for such a worthwhile cause.

Emma's Bubble Trust is an active, vibrant charity established in early 2008. As a living memory and tribute to Emma Louise Brandon, Emma's Bubble Trust is committed to raising as much money as possible to help alleviate the physical and emotional suffering of teenagers who find themselves afflicted by cancer.

Emma was diagnosed with Hodgkin's Lymphoma in the autumn of 2007 at the age of 15 and tragically died just before Christmas 10 days after her 16th birthday.

A much loved daughter, sister, granddaughter, girlfriend, niece and god daughter, Emma was a joyful, fun-loving teenager, affectionately known by her many friends as "Bubble". Emma's serenity and selfless concern for others remain a constant source of inspiration.

Drawing upon this inspiration, Emma's Bubble Trust will work tirelessly to help raise awareness and a greater understanding amongst GPs and teenagers about teenage cancers and help promote earlier diagnosis of these conditions. Energy will also be directed towards supporting the families of those affected, ensuring that pastoral care and emotional and practical support are available in times of need.

Emma's Bubble Trust will also add its weight to the efforts of other charities that focus their activities on raising funds and awareness of teenage cancers and allocate funds to those organisations conducting research into teenage cancers in general, but in particular lymphomas.

Emma's Bubble Trust will initially focus on supporting the soon to be installed teenage cancer ward at the Royal Marsden Hospital in Sutton, Surrey where Emma was treated - a special place to allow teenagers, like Emma, the place just to be.
